AGC EDUCATION AND RESEARCH FOUNDATION

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear AGC of America Family:

The AGC Foundation takes very seriously its goal of supporting programs deemed to be beneficial to the advancement of technological, educational, or vocational expertise in the industry. We have taken a hard look at all of our programs during the past year and are in the process of launching exciting new endeavors to support the work of the AGC, the Construction Leadership Council, the Associated Schools of Construction, ACCE and other worthy organizations, as well as continue our scholarship support.

We are gratified to have awarded 120 scholarships in 2010 and another 100 scholarships for 2011. Despite the economic downturn in recent years, we have continued to support the educational goals of our future constructors, thanks to the support of our endowment funders, who have in the past two years contributed extra dollars so that scholarships may continue to be awarded until our investment income rebounds. In addition, the generous members of the Consulting Constructors Council, who each contribute to the scholarship fund as part of their annual membership fee, and individual contributions from AGC members, have kept support of the Foundation's mission robust at a time when it is most crucial.

The coming year will see more change to the outward face of the Foundation as well: a redesigned web site, new mechanisms for communication with AGC members, and increased ways to bridge the transition for scholarship recipients to become full-fledged AGC members. We are excited about the possibilities and invite you to become a part of our efforts.

I would like to thank the Board of Directors of the AGC Foundation, and the staff for their dedication and commitment to the growth and success of the AGC Foundation as we continue to advance and support education in the construction industry. Thanks again to all our donors for your support which allows all of this to be possible.

Thomas J. Burleson
President

WELCOME NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Dan K. Fordice, III

Daniel K. Fordice III is currently Vice President of Fordice Construction Company and managing its Matfield Division out of its St. Francisville, LA branch office. Fordice graduated Mississippi State University in 1983 with a bachelor's degree in Construction Engineering Technology. He immediately went on active duty with the U.S. Army as a Second Lieutenant serving with the 3rd Infantry Division, 10th Engineer Battalion in Kitzingen, West Germany. After four years, he returned to Vicksburg, MS to join Fordice Construction Company. He served in the Mississippi National Guard 2/20th Special Forces Battalion for six years and resigned his commission in 1994 with the rank of Captain. Fordice has served on the National Board of Directors of the AGC since 2000, the Mississippi Valley Branch AGC since 1993, where he served as chair in 2001-2, and has served on numerous national AGC committees as member and chair.

Martin J. Garza

Marty Garza is a Project Executive for Zachry Construction Corporation headquartered in San Antonio, Texas. He has been involved in the local and national AGC for over 20 years and served as President of the San Antonio Chapter in 2007. Marty has a passion for education in construction and has served on the National Education Committee and Chaired the San Antonio Education Committee for three years. He currently represents the AGC Education and Research Foundation on the Board of the American Council for Construction Education and was elected in January 2011 to serve a three-year term as an active member of the AGC Education and Research Foundation.

John Schaufelberger

John Schaufelberger, Ph.D., PE, is the Chairman of the Department of Construction Management at the University of Washington, where he has taught since 1994. A licensed professional engineer, he served 30 years as an officer in the US Army Corps of Engineers prior to joining the University of Washington faculty. He managed major public works construction projects in Asia, Europe, and the Middle East, as well as at many locations throughout the United States. He is a member of the National Academy of Construction, author of Construction Equipment Management, published in 1999 and Construction Business Management, published in 2009, and co-author of Management of Construction Projects: Constructor's Perspective, published in 2001, and Construction Cost Estimating: Process and Practices, published in 2005, all published by Prentice-Hall.

CONGRATULATIONS AWARD WINNERS

Ken Robson 2011 Outstanding Educator

Ken Robson, full-time professor and Director of the Construction Science Division at the University of Oklahoma, where he has taught for 16 years, received the 2011 Outstanding Educator Award from the AGC Education and Research Foundation. Ken's nominators lauded his "dedication, enthusiasm and his willingness to reach for excellence in his teaching, research and service to the construction industry and construction education."

MISSION STATEMENT

It shall be the mission of the AGC Education and Research Foundation to advance, support and promote education in the construction industry.

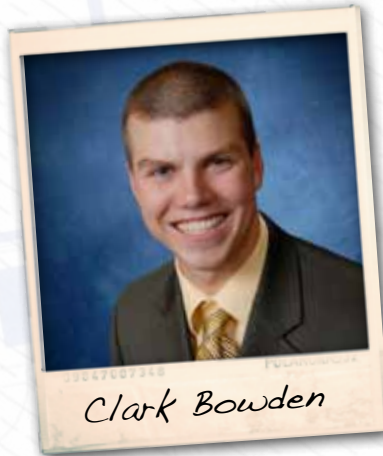

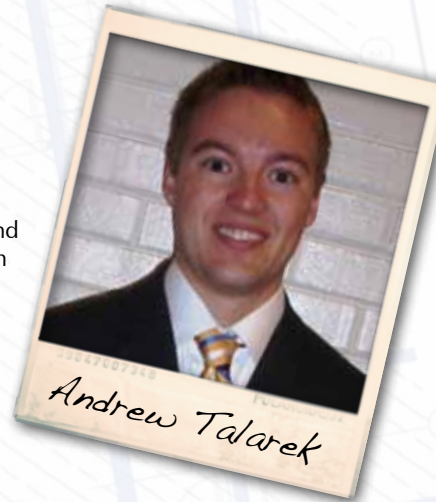

The AGC Foundation will achieve this by awarding scholarships to qualified students enrolled at ABET or ACCE accredited schools and colleges in the field of construction or construction related engineering, based upon application for such scholarships by individuals who demonstrate an interest in pursuing careers in the construction industry and who meet the AGC Foundation's academic and extracurricular criteria for such scholarships.

It shall also be the mission of the AGC Foundation to support or contribute to scientific or research projects and programs proposed by ABET or ACCE accredited schools and colleges and other groups, where such projects and programs are deemed by the Foundation to be beneficial to the advancement of technological, educational, or vocational expertise in the construction industry.

Andrew Talarek
First Place Winner

2011 James L. Allhands Essay Competition

Andrew Talarek, a senior in Purdue University's Building Construction Management Program, was the first place winner in the 2011 James L. Allhands Essay Competition for his outstanding essay on the topic, "Initiating a Culture of Lean Construction within the Firm." Andrew and his faculty sponsor, Brad Benhart, were honored by the AGC Education and Research Foundation at the 2011 AGC Convention.

Klinger Outstanding Senior Award

In memory of William A. Klinger, the first president of the AGC Foundation and one of the organizers of Iowa State University's Construction Engineering curriculum, the ISU Construction Engineering faculty selects a graduating senior, who is recognized by the AGC Education and Research Foundation with a cash prize and plaque for significant achievement in his or her undergraduate academic career.

Clark Bowden

Clark Bowden served as the president of the AGC Student Chapter at Iowa State University during his senior year in construction engineering. His leadership resulted in increased student membership with over 100 students achieving active membership and a total membership of over 150. Bowden also led efforts for a successful community service project during spring break in March 2010, when 34 construction engineering students performed over 2,100 hours of repairs for victims of massive flooding near Cedar Rapids, Iowa. His leadership was recognized when the Iowa State AGC Student Chapter received 2nd place in the AGC of America Outstanding Student Chapter contest for 2009-2010. Upon graduation in May, 2010 Bowden began his construction career with J.E. Dunn Construction, a member of the Kansas City Chapter of AGC.

A COMMITMENT...

Terry Deeny, AGC Board member since 1990 and AGC of America President from 1999-2000, shown here with (l to r) 2010 Build America Scholarship recipient Chris Locke, construction management major, University of Washington Class of 2011; Diane Kocer, Executive Director of the AGC of Washington Education Foundation; and David D'Hondt, Executive Vice President of AGC of Washington. Deeny and his wife, Darlene, endow a scholarship for the AGC Education and Research Foundation (AGCERF) for a student enrolled in either construction management or civil engineering at the University of Washington. His commitment to construction education is further evidenced by his enthusiasm each year to conducting interviews with AGCERF scholarship finalists. He has spent much of the past four years raising $4 million for a new laboratory at the University of Washington, where he counsels and mentors construction management students.

...TO THE FUTURE

Alex Angier (University of Washington Construction Management major, Class of 2011) accepts Frank and Susan Young Scholarship from David D'Hondt, Executive Vice President of AGC of Washington. Alex plans to pursue a career in civil, heavy or commercial projects with a general contractor.

Carl Pitzer (Oregon State University, Construction Management major, Class of 2011) Carl was the recipient of a Build America scholarship for his junior and senior years. He will pursue a career in commercial building.
