Country Club of Miami

Since opening in 1959, the Country Club of Miami has aligned itself with greatness. The club's first resident golf professional was none other than the legendary Arnold Palmer. Jack Nicklaus played his first event as a professional here, and it was on these grounds that Lee Trevino won his fourth professional victory, the 1970 National Airlines Open. That tradition of greatness continues on these recently renovated Robert Trent Jones Sr. designed courses. Lush fairways, swift rolling greens, and challenging bunkers, offer you the opportunity to develop your skills.

Situated in Northwest Miami. Exit Interstate 95 at Miami Gardens Drive, and follow west 9 miles to Alex Penelas Dr. Turn north/right into the clubhouse and golf course. From I-75 exit at Miami Gardens Dr. and follow east to Alex Penelas Dr. Turn north/left into the clubhouse and golf course.
