

The Key Role of Construction in Oklahoma's Economy

- The industry employed 72,800 workers in December 2007, 5% of the state's nonfarm employment of 1,585,800 and an increase of 1% from one year before. Nationally, construction accounted for 5% of nonfarm employment but fell 2.9% over the year as homebuilding shrank.
- Construction contributed $5 billion to state GDP of $135 billion in 2006.
- Annual pay in 2006 in construction averaged $34,606, 1% more than the private sector average of $34,136. Nationally, construction pay averaged $44,496, 5% more than the national private sector average of $42,414.
- Small business is big in construction. Oklahoma had 8,211 construction firms in 2005, of which 92% employed fewer than 20 workers. In addition, Oklahoma had 39,536 construction firms without employees, mainly sole proprietorships, in 2005.
- Oklahoma's population grew 1.1% from July 2006 to July 2007, 18th fastest of all states; the national growth rate was 1%. Population growth affects the demand for many types of construction.
