Dear Speaker Pelosi, Leader McCarthy, Majority Leader Schumer, Leader McConnell, Chairman Neal, Ranking Member Brady, Chairman Wyden and Ranking Member Crapo:

The following organizations, representing diverse business, energy, transportation, community development, charitable and agriculture stakeholders that employ millions of workers, are writing to you regarding the need to address expiring tax provisions (“tax extenders”).

We respectfully ask the House and Senate to pass legislation extending these provisions before the 117th Congress adjourns sine die. Numerous tax extenders have already expired, and more are currently set to expire at the end of 2022.

Previous lapses of these temporary tax provisions have caused confusion and hardship for the many taxpayers that utilize these tax incentives. Allowing these tax extenders to lapse at the end of 2022 would undermine their effectiveness, threaten thousands of jobs in the U.S. economy and cause needless uncertainty for taxpayers. As the country continues to grapple with the impact of COVID-19, supply chain challenges, and rising interest rates, tax uncertainty should be addressed without delay. These measures have a material impact on hiring, job retention, community services and business investment. Their extension would have a positive impact on an economy that is in need of stability.

Giving taxpayers stable tax rules by providing an extension of expired and expiring tax provisions is a common-sense step Congress can take to help America’s entrepreneurs and job creators navigate challenging economic times. Accordingly, we respectfully ask that you act to address tax extenders before the beginning of the next Congress.

We sincerely appreciate your attention to this matter and stand ready to work with you to achieve this important objective.

Sincerely,
