

2015 AGC Outstanding Student Chapter Contest Application Guidelines

AGC of America believes that community involvement is key to leadership in our industry. Therefore, the AGC Outstanding Student Chapter Award is given to those Student Chapters that undertake projects that benefits the local community - whether it's the school campus, a community organization or private person – and has a significant impact. It is our expectation that by undertaking challenging projects, with help from their sponsoring AGC Chapter and/or local AGC member firms, college and university students will learn fundamental AGC tenets of skill, integrity and responsibility so that they will become outstanding industry leaders.

Using the PDF application form below, please provide a brief description of the portfolio of community service events the chapter undertook during the 2014 – 2015 academic year, (August 2014 and May 2015) which was performed for the benefit of the local community. In your description, make sure to convey the Student Chapter's impact on the community. In past years, student chapter applications included such things as construction-oriented community service projects, conducting career days at high schools, etc. The top three schools will win cash prizes and financial support to travel and present their winning projects at the 97th Annual AGC Convention, March 9-11, 2016 in San Antonio, TX! Deadline for completed applications to be received at AGC of America: 5 p.m. EST on Friday, Oct. 9, 2015.

Be sure to answer all questions completely. Please use complete sentences to ensure your narrative explains your project in an interesting, compelling manner. Grammar, spelling and completeness of the application (including such additions as letters, articles, videos & photos) will count toward your final score.

All applications must use the OSC application form in order to qualify; this ensures that the judges have consistent applications from competing Student Chapters.
