Mr. Ackley has over 15 years project management experience and dispute resolution. He is a frequent lecturer and speaker on such topics as Critical Path Method, Construction Project Management, Contract Claims and Project Management. As a Senior Consultant at WHI, Mr. Ackley works with his clients in efforts to avoid delays and potential liabilities, through the use of accepted project management tools, and prompt dispute resolution. He also provides claims resolution work for private, municipal and federal construction projects and clients. Mr. Ackley's claim avoidance and resolution work includes determination of delays, entitlement, liabilities and damages, written and oral presentation of findings and, when necessary, mediation and litigation support. Mr. Ackley has testified as an expert witness on project delays, wrongful termination, and loss of productivity.
