

1. A hand-off is the release of the physical work space to the next trade partner.
2. The ideal time to discuss sequencing, hand-offs, and durations is during a Pull Plan session.
3. Identifying and understanding the conditions of satisfaction for each handoff is critical to coordinating and maintaining a reliable work flow in the field.
4. Hand-offs are important because they
 1. Provide clarity across all disciplines.
 2. Provide opportunities to change, overlap, or move activities.
 3. Allow trade partners to discuss their hand-offs and durations makes planning easier and more accurate.

5. A hand-off is the release of the physical work space to the next trade partner.
6. The ideal time to discuss sequencing, hand-offs, and durations is during a Pull Plan session.
7. Identifying and understanding the conditions of satisfaction for each handoff is critical to coordinating and maintaining a reliable work flow in the field.
8. Hand-offs are important because they
 1. Provide clarity across all disciplines.
 2. Provide opportunities to change, overlap, or move activities.
 3. Allow trade partners to discuss their hand-offs and durations makes planning easier and more accurate.