

VOLUNTEERING WITH AGC OF AMERICA

Volunteers play a vital role in leading the industry into the future

Your insight is needed to make the necessary progress to advance the construction industry. There are many different ways to get involved and make an impact!

1. Check out volunteer opportunities
2. Complete your volunteer profile
3. Get involved and make an impact

Local AGC Chapters

Begin your volunteer journey by getting involved in your local chapter. There are many opportunities available to share your input and make an impact on the future of the industry.

Micro-Volunteer

Short-term roles provide the opportunity to get involved in a project that requires less of a time commitment but allows for creativity and building connections.

AGC Committee Members

Serve on one of the many volunteer groups that drive AGC's mission and create valuable new programs and resources for members and the industry.

Committee & Division Leadership

AGC's divisions, which serve various market segments, as well as AGC's committees, councils, and forums are guided by members serving in leadership roles.

National Leadership

The Board of Directors and Board of Governors are the governing bodies of AGC made up of officers, council and division leadership, and additional dedicated members who work to advance the industry and the future of our association.
